Company Profile

Description	: CV Loco Agro Lestari is a company engaged in agricultural product drying services and the supply of herbal and food raw materials. We introduce innovative hybrid solar drying technology designed to produce dried products that are more hygienic, of superior quality, and more competitive in market value. In addition to providing drying services, CV Loco Agro Lestari is equipped with adequate storage facilities and marketing support to assist farmers and business partners in expanding their market reach. We offer a wide range of dried herbal and food raw materials sourced directly from farmers, including dried red ginger, dried emprit ginger, sungkai leaves, moringa leaves, dried turmeric, cassava chips, and various other agricultural products. Supported by a professional team and strategic partnerships with farmer groups, we are committed to enhancing the added value of agricultural products while sustainably strengthening the competitiveness of Indonesia's agroindustry
