Company Profile

Description	: On September 28, 2018, Riyo started this company to handle ecologically friendly waste. It was inspired by the concept of repurposing garbage, which has just recently become more valuable and advantageous. Diverse hard wood components from roots, stems, and twigs are processed as resources. These materials can be used in crafts to add to bird cages, reptiles, aquascapes, and home decorations, along with other things. On the other hand, if this company activity grows further, it may create job chances that lead to temporary or permanent employment by empowering the local community to work effectively (business and economic value).
